THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

For Daily, per year,	$10 00
" six months,	5 00
" one month	1 00
" two months	2 00
Semi-Weekly per year,	5 00
Weekly per year,	3 00

Our terms are invariably in advance. The scarcity of money however, obliges us to say to our friends, that responsible and prompt persons who desire the Sentinel need not delay sending us their names at once, who can send us the Cash in a short time. The money may be sent us by the Rail Road Conductors or the Express Company.

THE PEOPLE must be trusted with their Government, and if trusted, my opinion is that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union.—Andrew Johnson's Letter to Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

The Situation.

The constant and studied efforts of those, who for party purposes at home, continue to misrepresent the people of the South, and of this State, constitute one of the principal difficulties to early restoration. Added to this, the scramble for position at the North, puts the dearest interests of the South in constant jeopardy. The lust of power and place broke up the government, and now the same spirit, is likely to keep it asunder.

North Carolina, in the persons of many of her best citizens, is seriously suffering, and suffering wrongfully, because we have among us a class of persons, who bent upon promoting their own interests, employ every possible means to detract from the good name of their fellow-citizens, and to bring them into disrepute with the government and the North.

The kind and magnanimous spirit of President Johnson, who really seeks to promote the best interests of the South, and the favorable opportunities to impress him with the truth and the whole truth in regard to our people, are all made use of to fix in his mind prejudices against them, calculated to alienate his feelings and to increase the difficulties of restoration.

We are suffering quite as much from the par excellence Union men of the South—those who set themselves up as the paragons of loyalty, as from the radicals of the North. In their anxiety to gain office at home and influence with the government, they constantly pander to the prejudices of those North, who are opposed to restoration, by their continual misrepresentations of better men—men more honestly disposed than they are to promote the true interests of the country, and effect such a restoration as shall be both agreeable and lasting.

They profess to be friends of the Union—of the restoration of order and civil law, and yet show by their constant course, that they are really alien to both, and promoters of discord and alienation between the North and South.

Organization Complete.

The Senate succeeded on yesterday in effecting an organization. Mr. Settle was elected Speaker on the first ballot. The absence of several members no doubt, contributed to the defeat of Col. Ferebee, whose claims to the position, his friends thought, were pre eminent. Capt. Settle will make a good Speaker, and we hope will meet the expectations of his friends.

The election of Mr. Engelhard as Principal Clerk, we consider a capital selection. The defeat of Maj. Husted for Reading Clerk we regret because of his great fitness for the position. We know nothing of the qualifications of Mr. Albertson, but presume he will make a good Clerk.

R. Y. McAden, Esq.

The Standard very officiously and angrily attacks Mr. McAden of Alamance, on yesterday, charging him with being out of place in the House of Commons, because as it alleges, he is still unpardoned. We have not seen Mr. McAden since we saw the article, to inquire into the particulars of his case, but from what we know of him, the attack of the Standard does injustice to that gentleman. Mr. McAden is not included in the fourteen exceptions in the President's proclamation, and therefore was pardoned under the general amnesty, and is entitled as a good citizen to all its benefits. The only offence that he has been guilty of since the surrender, is, that during the late canvass, he gave the Standard and its candidate "particular fits."—Whether this makes him specially amenable to or obnoxious to the penalties of the revolution, we leave to the legal acumen of the Standard to determine.

We believe at one time, he was led by some erroneous representation of others, to draw up his petition for pardon, supposing he might by some forced construction of the thirteenth exception be included, and sent it on. In that petition he distinctly expressed the belief that he was not so embraced, but through much caution made the petition. Subsequently he became fully convinced that he was not included, and we believe made application for the withdrawal of his petition Under the positive assurance, which he is prepared to establish, that he is not embraced in the thirteenth exception, but was really a pardoned man, he became a candidate at the late election, was duly elected and takes his seat in the House, as his right and privilege. If the Standard or any one else, is prepared to controvert Mr. McAden that he does not hold his seat properly, he will immediately vacate it.

George W. Swepson, Esq., has obtained a charter for the establishment of a National Bank at Salisbury, N. C.

During the month ending on the 10th inst., [illegible] occurred in the United States nine boiler explosions, by which 60 persons lost their lives.

S. F. Phillips, Esq.

Few men are more considerate, more careful to measure their words, to weigh well every movement they make, than Mr. Phillips. He says nothing at random—there is no clap-trap about him. Hence what he says, he can prove, and does not back down from it. His election to the Speakership of the House on Monday, was a compliment to his ability, his sound sense and his prudence. But the Standard is not satisfied with the election nor with Mr. Phillips. Three months ago, Mr. P. was a very proper man in the estimation of the Standard. It then thought he was one of its clique, but those who knew Mr. P. better, knew that he never was a Standard man—never sympathised with it, however much he may have approved of some of the views advocated sometimes by it.

Now the Standard brings up an extract from a speech said to have been delivered by Mr. P. in Hillsboro, which that paper uses to impress the reader, that Mr. P. is hostile to President Johnson and his administration. An honest and fair interpretation of the extract or speech however, will impress the reader more correctly with the views of Mr. P. No man in the State gives to the government a more hearty support—none are more anxious or more sincere in their desire to return to the Union, than Mr. Phillips. He had expected much at the outset, to unite and conciliate and bind to the government our people, from the administration of Gov. Holden. The Governor's declarations of devotion to the State and to the Union, his own personal interest as well as the interest of the government, Mr. P. hoped, gave the promise that at least, the character and peace and interests of the people of North Carolina, would be safe in the Governor's hands. His speech, an extract of which the Standard publishes, expresses Mr. Phillip's disappointment. "This State," he says, "has been treated in a different manner from any other Southern State." Does the Standard deny that? Is not the expression in every one's mouth! Do not the facts make the assertion patent to every man?

What is the obvious meaning of Mr. Phillips' remarks, admitting that they are correctly reported, which we doubt? Do they indicate any hostility to the President? Is not the whole tenor of the quotation, an expression of disappointment and of regret that he has been disappointed? Is it not plain, that Mr. Phillips considers, that the difference which is manifest in the administration of affairs in Mississippi and South Carolina and in North Carolina, is the result of the difference in the administration of the Governors of the several States? Mr. Phillips had no reason to doubt—no man can doubt that President Johnson is as kindly disposed to North Carolina as to any of the Southern States. Nay, there are reasons to believe that he felt a special interest in North Carolina. But that there is a difference and has been a difference in the treatment of the people of North Carolina from that pursued in Mississippi and South Carolina, is palpable to every man.

Now who is to blame for this? Does any one attach blame to the President for this? Does Mr. Phillips indicate that the President is blamable? Does he not throw the whole onus upon the Governor? The course of Gov. Sharkey and Perry has been one of confidence and conciliation towards the people, while as Mr. Phillips says, Gov. Holden, "is conducting a system of doubt and distrust." And is it not true? Can even the Standard deny it?

Thousands of people in the State, not only the "straitest sect" and conservatives generally, but those who had been secessionists, were gratified at Mr. Holden's appointment. They expected much from his professions, from his knowledge of the people, from his assurances of fidelity to the people. They have been disappointed, like Mr. Phillips. The simple fact that Mr. Holden, was "a shrewd politician," alone led us at first to deprecate his acceptance of the position—Afterwards for a short time, we had reason to hope that our fears were ill-founded, but subsequently we were forced to return to our first position, that "a shrewd politician" was not the best man for a Governor.

Dr. Powell.

We were glad on yesterday to receive a call from Dr. Powell of Washington. He desires us to correct a statement made in the Sentinel on yesterday, in regard to himself, which we cheerfully do. He authorizes us to state, that the connection of his name with the Senatorship of North Carolina, is wholly unauthorized by himself, and that the first time he had heard of such a thing, was in the allusion we made to it on yesterday. He furthermore requests us to state, that he is a citizen of North Carolina, that he has never claimed citizenship any where else, and that he has only been absent from the State, on account of his employment by the government. We were pleased with the Doctor's visit, and with his pleasant and conciliatory spirit.

Seizure of Rebel Gold.

Major W. H. Gibbon, Q. M. C. S. A., Geo. E. Taylor, Q. M. C. S. A., and Robert Heth, private in rebel service, on breaking up of Lee's army were in Richmond, and had about $47,000 in gold belonging to the rebel government in their possession. After leaving Richmond, Heth, under orders from Taylor and Gibbon, burried about $20,000 of the amount near the Dan river, in North Carolina, which they subsequently dug up and "spent freely" in and about Richmond.—The facts becoming known to the government, Taylor and Heth about two weeks ago were arrested in Richmond and brought to this city and placed in the old capitol. It is supposed that nearly all the money has been spent by them, but the government has succeeded in obtaining possession of about $4,000 of it. The prisoners are still held to await further developments.—Washington Rep.

North Carolina Iron.—We take pleasure in calling special attention to the notice in to-day's paper, of Messrs. Downer & Co, Endor Iron Works, Chatham County, N. C. We know nothing of the quality of the iron, but we do know the iron is manufactured in our own State, and we presume it is as good as most other iron, and we think the Company deserves the patronage of our own people.—Wilmington Journal.

NORTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

Nov. 28th, 1865.

The Senate was called to order at 10 o'clock A. M. by Mr. M. L. Wiggins, Senator from Halifax.

On motion of Mr. Leach of Davidson, a recess for a half hour was taken, a number of Senators being absent on account of a misunderstanding as to the hour of meeting

At the expiration of the recess, the Senate proceeded to ballot for Speaker.

Those who voted for Mr. Ferebee were Messrs. Cowper, Eure, Faison, Harris of Franklin, Howard, Keaner, Latham, Leitch of Robeson, McEachen, McLean, McCleese, Morehead, Pitchford, Sanders, Shober, Stanford, Whitford, Wiggins, Williams and Wilson—20.

For Mr. Settle, Messrs Arendell, Black, Blount, Bogle, Boner, Boyd, Bullock, Covington, Coward, Cowles, Garner, Gash, Gorrell, Harris of Rutherford, Jones of Columbus Jones of Wake, Leach of Davidson, Morgan, Pool, Snead, Warren and Winstead—22.

Mr. Ferebee voted for Mr. Whitford, Messrs. Whitford and Leach of Davidson conducted Mr. Settle to the chair, who addressed the Senate as follows:

SENATORS,

You have called upon me to preside over your deliberations at a very important period in our country's history.

The late attempt to sever North Carolina's connection with the federal Union proved unsuccessful. She did not get out of the Union, and yet, unfortunately, there are too many evidences on all hands to remind us that we are not fully in the Union.

I am glad to see the wisdom and patriotism of the State so well represented in the Senate.

The people are looking with great anxiety to the Legislature and expect us to do something to restore North Carolina to her former proud position as a member of the Union, until that is accomplished, I fear that we can do but little to ameliorate the condition of our people.

Let us unite our labors and our prayers for the accomplishment of this great, leading object, and let us give to the great statesman and patriot, who presides over our common country, a generous support in his efforts to reconstruct the government.

I am not insensible to the high compliment in calling upon me to preside over the deliberations of the Senate, but I rely upon your kindness and sympathy to sustain me in the discharge of the duties which the position imposes upon me.

On motion of Mr. Shober, the Senate proceeded to vote for Principal Clerk.

Mr. Shober nominated Mr. J. A. Englehard.

Mr. Winstead nominated Mr. J. W. Alspaugh, of Forsythe.

Mr. Englehard received 25 votes.

Mr. Alspaugh, 18.

Mr. C. H. Brogden, 1.

Mr. Englehard having received a majority of the votes cast was declared duly elected.

On motion of Mr. Morgan, the Senate then proceeded to elect an Assistant Clerk.

Messrs. J. W. Albertson of Perquimans, and H. W. Husted and W. W. Whitaker, were nominated.

On the second ballot, Mr. Whitaker's name having been withdrawn, Mr. Albertson was elected by the following vote: Albertson 24; Husted 21.

The Senate completed its organization by electing James Page of Randolph, Principal, and C. C. Talley of Chatham, Assistant Door-keeper.

On motion of Mr. Shober, a message was sent to the House of Commons announcing the Senate's organization.

The Senate then adjourned until eleven o'clock to-morrow.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

November 28th.

The following members elect appeared, were qualified and took their seats, viz.

Messrs. Thompson of Bertie, Thigpen of Edgecombe, Moore of Martin, Hoke of Lincoln, Jenkins of Gaston, Stilly of Beaufort, and Faircloth of Greene.

Mr Holderby's resolution, offered on yesterday, extending an invitation to the clergy to open the sessions of the House with prayer, was taken up and adopted.

On motion of Mr. Moore of Alamance,

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine into the legal qualifications of R. Y. McAden, a member from Alamance county duly elected to his seat in the House of Commons, and that the committee be requested to report to this House at its earliest convenience.

Mr McAden said: That Dr. Moore, his colleague had introduced this resolution at his request, owing to a paragraph appearing in one of the City papers questioning his legal right to occupy a seat on this floor That it was not his custom to notice such attacks, as they ordinarily did not influence his action one way or the other. That he had done this from the respect he had for President Johnson and his reconstruction policy, and the respect he had for the members of this House. That he could say sincerely that he did not desire, and he knew the constituents who did him the honor to send him here, did not wish to throw the slightest obstacle in the path we all desire so much to tread to our father's mansion, not even such a "straw as he was." He asked the House as a personal courtesy, that the resolution might pass, that the committee might promptly report, so that if he was not qualified, his seat might be declared vacant, and his constituents might proceed to fill the vacancy.

Messages were sent to the Senate informing that body of the due organization of the House, and proposing to raise a Joint Select Committee on Rules.

A committee of five was appointed to prepare rules for the government of the House. Meanwhile, the rules adopted at the session of 1860-61 are to be respected.

The House adjourned until to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Gov. Vance and Others.

The Goldsboro News thinks that one of the first acts of the Legislature should be to petition President Johnson for an unconditional pardon of Gov. Z. B. Vance. We would offer as an amendment to the suggestion of the News, the names of Governor Graham and Hon. George Davis; not meaning, however, to exclude the name of any other North Carolinian who is still unpardoned. If the claims of these gentlemen are properly represented to the President, we do not doubt that he will extend to them the same executive clemency that was exercised in the cases of General Wade Hampton and other prominent Southern leaders in the late war.—Wilmington Dispatch.

AFFAIRS IN LOUISIANA.

From New Orleans--Armed Negroes--Proposition to Import Coolies--The Wiping Out of Old Party Lines, E c.

New Orleans, Nov. 23, 1865.—Almost every negro that is arrested and taken before the City Recorder, is found to be possessed of some unlawful weapon.

An agent of commercial houses in France has arrived here. He announces to the planters of Louisiana, that he is authorized to contract for the emmigration of laborers from India and China.

Business here continues active, and is daily increasing.

Old party lines and prejudices were entirely ignored and forgotten in the late elections.—This is strongly exhibited by a reference to the old party relations of the Congressmen elect—Of the five elected two are old line Whigs—King and Ray—one, Wickliffe, Douglas and anti secession, and strongly Union at the commencement of the secession agitation and all through the war; and old Jacob Barker, who, in the Presidential contest of 1860, voted, I believe, for Douglas; the fifth, Mr St Martin, is the only Congressman elected who supported Breckinridge in 1860, and mildly approved secession, but took no active part in the war.

The steamer Merrimac, which left here a few days since, has just been brought back again and is now on the bar She showed signals of distress and was picked up by the steamer Costa Rica. She sprang a leak, and but for the opportune arrival of the Costa Rica would have been done for. The water had nearly reached her fires.

[Correspondence of the New York Herald.]

Condition of the Mexicans.

El Paso, Oct. 20.—President Juarez and his Cabinet are still here, but as the news of the coming of the French along the Rio Grande was received at El Paso a few days ago no one can say how long he will remain nor what effect their presence in these regions may have upon his resolutions.

It has been reported here that General Mejia, the commander of Matamoras, intends to send a force to El Paso, as soon as he shall have been reinforced by the French. On the other hand, General Brincourt, who has just completed the organization of the State and City of Chihuahua, is about to send a few hundred horsemen to this city, the possession of which will give to the French the entire control of the State.

In these critical junctures President Juarez has deemed it expedient to call a Cabinet Council. M. Lerdo de Tejada, the Minister of foreign affairs; Iglesiaz, Minister of Justice, Mariano Diaz, Secretary of War, and a few other gentlemen, met the other day in obedience to his call to discuss the question of the removal of the government. Nothing has yet transpired, however, concerning their resolution. If compelled to abandon El Paso, the probability is that Juarez will go, by way of California, to some of the southern provinces of Mexico not yet visited by the French.

The population of this place and the surrounding country are bled to death by taxes and requisitions of all kinds necessary to the support of Juarez and his government. As the exchequer of the republic is empty, and has no means of being replenished but by compulsory contributions, they bear the whole burden of the expenses, and are completely ruined.

The Western Rail Road.

We think that this road is destined yet to fully realize the anticipations of its projectors. We think this because we cannot believe but that some action will yet be taken to extend the work so as to connect it with the North Carolina Railroad at Greensboro'. This connection could result in nothing but the utmost prosperity for Fayetteville as well as Greensboro'; and when the great benefits arising from the connection are taken into consideration together with the small outlay necessary to accomplish the work, it will seem astonishing that any doubt should be entertained as to the ultimate extension of the road. Just now, of course, we cannot expect men who have but yesterday lost all their possessions to contribute to such a work, but when the matter is placed in its true light before men of capital—and there are men at the North with immense amounts who are looking for places to invest—they cannot fail to perceive the great advantages and the security of profit which is offered here. The road could be finished from Egypt to Greensboro', a distance of forty-eight miles for the sum of thirty thousand dollars per mile, or the whole work could be accomplished for the round sum of one million four hundred and forty thousand dollars.

This connection would in the event of the completion of the Fayetteville and Florence Railroad make a through connection, by an inland, central, direct and quick route from Charleston to Richmond, and thence to Washington City. The advantages of such a route are palpable; and ere long they will assuredly work out the completion of these projects.

But even without these connections the road is doing well. The coal mine at Egypt will be in operation by the first of February, large quantities of the product of that mine will be awaiting transportation, and all that the road needs to do a good and paying business is the rolling stock necessary to the transportation of the freight which it will be enabled to command.—Fayetteville News.

Members of Congress.

The following is a list of the members of Congress elected in this State:

1st	District—	J R Stubbs of Martin.
2d	"	Chas C Clark of Craven.
3d	"	Thos C Fuller of Cumberland.
4th	"	Josiah Turner of Orange.
5th	"	Bedford Brown of Caswell,
6th	"	Saml H Walkup of Union.
7th	"	A H Jones of Henderson.

It is stated that since the official count of the vote in the Fifth District, an error has been discovered in the summing up the vote of Davidson county, which defeats Brown by 21 votes.

Major Egbert A. Ross.—This beloved son of the "Old North State," one who has been reared among us, and fell in the service of his country, has been disinterred from the soil of Gettysburg, and his sacred remains were received by his beloved parents and true friends on Thursday last.

Major Egbert Ross fell at the head of his command at Gettysburg, Pa., on the 1st of July, 1863, at the age of 20 years. He was one of the first who volunteered in the service of his country and gallantly led the Charlotte Greys into service as their Captain, in the memorable battle of Big Bethel.

He continued as a soldier in the service and won the majority by his gallantry and brilliant achievements.

His remains were conveyed to their last resting place, followed by a large concourse of citizens, on Friday morning last.—Char. Times.

Court House Burned.—We learn that the fine Court House at Lexington, Davidson county, and the building near it belonging to Mr. Penry, were destroyed by fire on Thursday night last. This was doubtless the work of an incendiary.

The General Council of the Episcopal Church in the South.

The Episcopal Church in council at Augusta, Ga., adopted the following:

Resolved, That while we advise the change of word "Confederate" to that of "United," wherever it occurs in the prayer book, we recommend that a joint committee be appointed by this council to enter its solemn protest against those military orders by which churches have been closed and clergymen ordered to be suspended from their functions because they could not use certain prayers under the dictation of military authority, do respectfully report that

Whereas, The Bishop of Alabama was elected and consecrated under the Constitution and Canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Confederate States, and never has been, nor is now, a bishop of the Church in the United States, nor can be so in the judgment of that Church, as recently expressed in this case unless and until he shall have made the required promise of conformity to the Constitution and Canons thereof; and

Whereas, For this reason he held that he was under no ecclesiastical obligation to use the prayer appointed in the prayer book of said Church for the President of the United States, and all others in civil authority; and

Whereas, The independence of the Church, in matters purely spiritual, is held to be of Divine authority, and has been the doctrine of the Church from the foundation of Christianity, and is at this day conceded universally by the powers of this world, wherever the Church has been true to itself.

Therefore, We, the members of this council do, in our own behalf, and in behalf of the Christian Church throughout the world, solemnly protest against the order issued September 26, 1865, from the Headquarters of the Department of Alabama, that the bishop and clergy of that diocese be suspended from their functions and forbidden to preach or perform Divine service, and that their places of worship be closed, and against all and every secular interference with ecclesiastical affairs, as a violation of liberty of conscience, as guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States.

Take my stock altogether, I have one among the largest and most desirable and complete stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the City.

Now, allow me to say that I bought my Goods to sell, and they must and shall be sold; but I don't expect to take a piece of poetry in one hand and a full grown humbug in the other and climb up to the clouds and fish out the birds of Paradise and gently bring them down with a placard stuck on their tails, "Selling out at Cost! selling out at cost!" No, I deal in no such humbug. I keep no such a class of Goods. I keep no time worn, shelf-rubbed, defaced or dusty Goods—dust so thick you can rub it off with a knife. My Goods are all new, and of good styles, and I intend to sell them as low as anybody that bought goods with the expectation of paying for them, and the man that sold the goods to the man that don't intend to pay for them, is a fool—and the man that sells them is a rascal. Now this is plain talk, but 'tis no slip of the tongue. I mean what I say, and say what I mean. I have lived here and sold goods here for twenty years. I expect to remain here. I pay my taxes to support Institutions of the City, County and the State. I expect to continue to do so. I respectfully ask my old customers, my old friends and new ones to call and examine my stock. I will deal with you honest and treat you right. If I don't sell you goods as cheap as you can buy the same class of goods elsewhere I don't expect you to buy. Call at the R. Letter From Hon. E. G. Reade.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 11th, 1865.

His Excellency, W. W. HOLDEN,

Provisional Governor of North Carolina:

On the 10th instant I had an interview with His Excellency, the President, for the purpose of presenting to him such of the proceedings of our State Convention as the Convention directed me to present to him. I addressed him as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT:—In behalf of the Convention of North Carolina, lately in session, over which I had the honor to preside, I present for your favorable consideration certain of its proceedings.

In the late war there were two issues:

First, the existence of the Union and second, the existence of slavery. The result was favorable to the Union; and adverse to slavery.

North Carolina submits not in degradation, but in the moral grandeur of resignation to rightful authority.

The first thing done by the Convention was to declare her uninterrupted connection with the Union; and that the ordinance of May, 1861, by which she was attempted to be severed, was null and void. This was done by a vote very nearly approaching unanimity—and thus the first issue was yielded.

The next thing done was to prohibit slavery; and this was done by a unanimous vote. And a committee of able lawyers was provided to prepare wholesome laws for the consideration of the Legislature, and thus the second issue was yielded.

The excellent temper and disposition of our people induced the Convention to ask your Excellency for a universal pardon for them. This was done, not in any spirit of complaint, for we concede that the action of your Excellency has been prudent, and was designed to be magnanimous and conciliating; but our people are so well affected to the Government and are so little sensible of any sentiment of alienation, that they feel some mortification at being kept in a condition, implying that they are not—what they so well know themselves to be—entirely reconciled to the Union.

The Convention having yielded what was involved in the war and being of the opinion that the State was and always had been in the Union, and that our relations had only been disturbed and not destroyed, respectfully asks your Excellency to declare on the part of the authorities of the United States, as the State has done on her part, that our governmental relations have been reconciled.

Not only are our people well disposed towards the United States, but their appreciation of the administration of the Government by your Excellency has been so marked and universal, that the Convention thought it due to their constituency, and eminently due to your Excellency to vote a resolution of thanks for the ability and impartiality with which you have discharged your duties to every portion of the country.

We have heard that notwithstanding the State might yield, and, as she understands it, has yielded all that was involved in the war; and notwithstanding our people are submissive well disposed and anxious for fraternal relations, her delegation to Congress would not be admitted unless they had qualifications not prescribed by the Constitution, that they would be required to take an oath, which few men in the State can take, affirming not merely that they are right now, but that they have never been wrong. The exclusion of her delegation upon any such test as is suggested would be felt by our people universally as such a deep wrong that it would put their strong devotion to the Government and their lively hope of perfect reconstruction to the severest trial. They can understand the bitterness of strife and the aversion to treason. But they will be confounded at the repulsion of offered friendship and aroused loyalty. The Convention therefore respectfully asks Congress to repeal the "Test Oath." I have thought it respectful both to you and to Congress—that this request of the Convention should pass through your hands, with the hope that your Excellency's magnanimity would add to it some reflection which would avail with that body

The Convention instructed the Legislature to provide for the payment of the debts of the State, and declared all debts contracted in aid of the rebellion to be illegal and prohibited the payment of the same.

To what has been done by the Convention I can add nothing of my own except to assure your Excellency that my own sentiments are in accordance with the best deeds of the Convention, and with the best sentiments of our people.

I have the honor to lay before your Excellency a copy of our Constitution with the amendment, and the ordinances of the Convention.

The President replied as follows:

HON. MR. READE:—I received from you with pleasure, a copy of the proceedings of the Convention of North Carolina. I reciprocate cordially the conciliatory spirit in which you have addressed me.

The Convention of North Carolina has done much and well toward restoring the State to her proper natural relations, but something yet remains to be done to render her restoration immediately practicable. An acceptation of the Constitutional amendment abolishing slavery throughout the United States by the Legislature of North Carolina, is in my judgment practically important to the successful restoration which is so much desired by all.

Without answering specifically the questions you have proposed to me, it will be sufficient to say that my action must depend upon events, and that Mr. Holden will be again instructed to continue the exercise of his functions as Provisional Governor until he shall have been expressly relieved by orders to that effect."

The President was frank and cordial, as was also Mr. Seward, who was present

My mission was limited to the business indicated and I had no further interviews.

I am sir, very truly,
Your obedient servant,
E. G. READE.

Fatal Accident.

A terrible and fatal accident occurred on yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the performance at the Theatre, resulting in the immediate death of T. N. Huntley, of Nashville, Tennessee, the tight rope performer. He had ascended the rope, which was stretched from the staging of the Theatre to the third tier, and was in the act of descending, when he fell a few feet off from the gallery, striking in the parquette and breaking his neck by the fall, as well as terribly mutilating the head and face. It is supposed that he had not the necessary skill and expertness to maintain himself on the rope, and being only a novice, lost his life in the perilous venture. He is said to have appeared very nervous at starting, and as if mistrusting his success.

The deceased is stated to be a very young man, not more than 20 years of age. A jury of inquest under Coroner Wood was assembled soon after the occurrence, and decided in view of the evidence presented, that "the deceased came to his death from an accidental fall from tight rope, while performing an evening matinee at the Theatre."

A great crowd of persons was drawn to the scene of the accident, to view the remains of the unfortunate victim and to learn the circumstances of the fatal event.—Wilmington Journal.

ALABAMA AFFAIRS.—Both houses of the Alabama Legislature have organized. The message of Governor Parsons, delivered to the Legislature, urges the adoption of the Constitutional amendment abolishing slavery, and the passage of laws protecting the negro in his person and property. This course, he says will secure the admission of our representatives in Congress, and restore the State to all her political rights in the Union. He offers a special code for the government of the negro, and recommends the adoption of a vagrant law bearing upon the whites and blacks alike. He also recommends that provision be made for freedmen white and [illegible]

The Landed Estates of the South.

[From The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser.]

The natural instincts of manhood suggest resistance, either by act or expression to whatever appears to be wrong or oppressive. From this cause, we think, springs the very general opinion that in being deprived of their slaves, the people of the South have been deprived of all their wealth.

However unconstitutional or injurious the secession of acts may have been by which slavery has been abolished, it is useless to argue, and we propose to show that the fact itself may be made of worldly advantage to our people. Heretofore it has been the custom to consider a man as being wealthy, or only comfortable, in proportion to the number of slaves he had dependent upon him for support. The number of his broad acres was hardly taken into the account. Is this the right view of it?

For the purpose of cultivating a tract of land, instead of having to support the actual number of hands required to do the work our planters have had imposed upon them to clothe, and feed and tend, at least three unprofitable ones to every one whose labor was of profit to them. Few of our slave owners ever disposed of their slaves. The natural increase in numbers was looked upon as so much increase in cash, and in this uncommercial manner they added up their books at the end of the year, only to find themselves poorer by far.

In order to support this constantly increasing number of non-producers, their lands were skimmed over, and the spots which promised most returns for the labor alone were cultivated. Old fields, grown up with pines and briars, took the place of what once had been fertile plains. The homesteads were neglected, and the cotton and the corn grew far away from their doors. Most of the products of the plantation were expended in feeding the population upon them. Very little was left for real substantial gain.

Slave labor being at an end, the first object to be considered is the getting of a proper amount of paid labor to till the land it is proposed to cultivate. For this labor only will pay be required. For the feeding of such hands as will be actually employed will the products of the land tilled alone be expended. The surplus is clear gain, and may properly be reckoned as a credit for the place.

Let us now look at the real wealth of our people. It lies in their lands; the vast forests and the outspreading prairies, the pleasant valleys and the gently sloping hills. These constitute the people's wealth. This is riches, to which the labor of a few dependents, is, in comparison, as a drop to the ocean.

Instead then of being cast down by an unavoidable necessity, which grew out of our failure to establish the Confederacy, our people should at once address themselves to the work that is before them and by earnest, zealous effort, exact the reward that industry and sagacity invariably produce.

Let them determine at once to be independent of the world. Having selected their ground let them labor to make it yield. In order to do this they must give, if they hope to receive. Let their lands be manured and ploughed thoroughly and well.—Do not undertake more than can be accomplished. Far better is that one hundred acres be cultivated well than thrice one hundred acres should be neglected and spoiled.

The immense estates of our people if properly divided and worked will form a most powerful agent in regulating the commerce of the world. As it is, even now, the chiefest of our products rules the markets of all nations. What mind can calculate the added power and wealth of our people and their posterity when their lands shall all bloom and blossom, when cattle and sheep shall be on a thousand hills and the smoke from the cabin shall ascend from every field. Railroads will form a network all over the land to supply the demands of this great population. The land itself will increase in value fourfold. Let all go to work that the blood of our kindred which has been poured out for us like water, may rest in a soil that we have made "the gem and the wonder of earth."

A Court Scene.

There was a hush in the court room as the red nosed judge took his seat upon the bench, and shouted.

"Bring the prisoner into the court."

"Here I am, bound to blaze, as the spirit of turpentine said when he was all a-fire," said the prisoner.

"We will take a little fire out of you. How do you live?" asked the judge.

"I ain't particular, as the oyster said when they asked him if he'd be roasted or fried."

"We don't want to hear what the oyster said, or the spirits of turpentine either. What do you follow?"

"Anything that comes in my way, as the locomotive said when she ran over the little nigger."

"Don't say anything about the locomotive.—What is your business?"

"That's various, as the cat said, when she stole the chicken off the table."

"If I hear any more absurd comparisons, I will give you twelve months.

"I'm done, as the beefsteak said to the cook."

"Now, sir, your punishment shall depend upon the shortness and correctness of answers. I suppose you live by going around the docks."

"No, sir; I can't go around the docks without a coat, and I ain't got none."

"Answer me, sir. How do you get your bread?"

"Sometimes at the baker's, and sometimes I eat faters."

"No more of your stupid nonsense. How do you support yourself?"

"Sometimes on my legs and sometimes on a cheer" (chair.)

"How do you keep yourself alive?"

"By breathing."

"I order you to answer this question correctly. How do you do?"

"Pretty well, thank you, judge. How do you do?"

"I shall have to commit you"

"Well, you've committed yourself first, that's some consolation."

The prisoner went out of court with a jerk, and was hastened to jail.

Our Relations with France--The Mexican Question.

In a dispatch to the late Minister Dayton, the Secretary of State said, "he might not improperly improve the occasion by remarking that the Executive Government of this country has no organ in the press, and its views and sentiments in regard to France, as well as to all other countries, can be known always by the language of its diplomatic representatives; for it instructs them minutely, and directs them to speak always frankly and sincerely."

A short time before this communication was sent to Minister Dayton, Mr. Seward wrote to him:

"The statement made you by M. Drouyn De L'Huys concerning the Emperor's intentions, are entirely satisfactory, if we are permitted to assume them as having been authorized to be made by the Emperor in view of the present condition of affairs in Mexico. It is true, as I have before remarked, that the Emperor's purposes may hereafter change with changing circumstances. We, ourselves, however, are not unobservant of the progress of events, at home and abroad, and in no case are we likely to neglect such provisions for our own safety, as every sovereign State must always be prepared to fall back upon when nations with which they have lived in friendship cease to respect their moral and treaty obligations. Your own discretion will be your guide as to how far and in what way the public interest will be promoted by submitting these views to the consideration of M. Drouyn de L'Huys."

It is reported in England that Mr. Adams, the American Minister at St. James, is soon to resign and return to the United States.

From the Petersburg Index

Death of John W. Syme, Esq.

Died, in this city, on Saturday last, the 26th instant, JOHN W. SYME, Esq., at the age of fifty-six. We give expression to a regret which will be felt in this and our neighboring State by thousands who knew and appreciated the many excellencies of character amid the intelligence and public spirit which distinguished MR. SYME

He was the son of a venerable Episcopal clergyman, who, at a ripe old age, descended to the tomb, in our midst, and the tears of the entire community, who gave utterance to their reverence for his eminent virtues and worth by assigning to him a name of affectionate respect while he lived, and by universally mourning him when dead. No one ever closed his eyes for the last time amid the people of Petersburg with a larger measure of their love than "Parson SYME"

His son was known chefly to the people of Virginia as the editor of the Petersburg Intelligencer, a newspaper which for twenty years divided with the Richmond Whig the honor of leadership of its party in the State. It was famous for its boldness, independence, its trenchant sarcasm, and the vigor of its editorial conduct. No Whig editor in Virginia, except the lamented Pleasants, received a larger measure of the confidence of that powerful political organization, and none deserved it more. He was as ready with voice as with pen, and, when in the mood, few men made a happier hit on the hustings; none ever met a challenge more promptly. He represented this city for five consecutive years in the Legislature, where he was among the leaders of that small band of "internal improvement" men who fought for a long time so unequal a battle for the development of the resources of Virginia.

The nomination of Gen. Scott for the Presidency, against which he protested strongly, so shocked his sense of party propriety and justice that he never thereafter exhibited his former interest in political affairs, and the subsequent merging of his party into the American or Know Nothing organization destroyed the little remaining interest he felt in a party which, under the plastic hand of that incomparable leader, Mr. Clay, had risen to such gigantic proportions, and promised such powerful sway over the future destinies of the Republic.

In 1856 he moved to North Carolina, purchased the Whig organ at the Capital, the Raleigh Register, and there remained until the third year of the war, when he returned to Petersburg, to which place his attachments were always strongest, and removing his press and type, began the publication of the Register in this city. This continued until August, 1864, when under the difficulty of procuring the necessary material, the paper ceased.

Since the evacuation Mr. SYME has spent his time partly here and partly in North Carolina, where his family continued to reside, and where some of his children are married.

He had been in feeble health for some years, and on Thursday last was taken with paralysis, from which he never recovered, expiring peacefully in his sleep Saturday afternoon.

He was a generous, impulsive man, warm in his attachments, social and political, and decided in his antipathies in both spheres. No man was less hypocritical in the expression of his opinions as to men or measures; concealment and, far more, duplicity, were as far from his disposition as from the generous sun. Every one knew where to find him.

His faults, for he was a man, were the faults of excess in what we call virtues when exhibited in moderation, an earnestness of conviction, an intolerance of shams, as they were the foundation of what was admirable in his life, were also the fountain of all that his enemies could lay to his charge, for he was truthful, scrupulously honest, upright in his dealings, true to his friends, frank to his foes, a generous man, a good citizen.

He was a cherished member of the Masonic Order and of the St. Andrews Society, in the assemblages of which latter association he always took the liveliest interest, as he was always an honored participant.

By the members of the Masonic Fraternity, and a large concourse of warm personal and political friends, he was yesterday carried to the tomb

Georgia Election.

The election in Georgia for Governor, Members of the Legislature and seven Members of Congress, took place recently. The only candidate for Governor was the Hon. Charles J. Jenkins of Augusta. The following list embraces most of the candidates for Congress: In the Savannah (1st) District, James L. Seward, ex-M. C. of Thomas; Wm. B. Gaulden, ex-M. C. of Liberty, and Col. George H. Black of Scriven. In the Southwestern (2d) District—Gen. Phil. Cook of Macon County, who entered as private and ended in command of a brigade. In the Columbus (3d) District—Hugh Buchanan of Coweta and Benj. H. Bingham of Troup. In the Milledgeville (4th) District—Judge E. B Cabaniss of Monroe. In the Augusta (5th) District—Col. John Millege of Richmond. In the Dahlonega (6th) District—J. T. Simmons of Gwinnett. In the Atlanta (7th) District—James P. Hambleton of Atlanta, Gen. Wm. T. Wofford of Cass and James A. Stewart of Rome.

The Natchez Courier thinks that if Governor Brownlow were to die and go to the deuce, he would assert his right to the crown, and the devil would be merely lieutenant governor of the concern.

It is said that the Swiss Consul-General is anxious to introduce into Virginia and North Carolina a large body of his own countrymen.

MARRIED,

At Cedar Falls, on the 22rd inst, by the Rev. Thad. L. Troy Mr JOHN R SWAFFORD to Miss ELIZA ANN WINNINGHAM, all of Randolph County.

OBITUARY.

Col. NATHAN IVEY departed this life on the night of November 24, 1865, at the family residence near Raleigh, after a lingering illness since April last, with a few intervals of comparative health.

The death of such a man is a sad calamity not only to his immediate family circle, but also to the county. Col. Ivey was distinguished for his strict integrity, kindness of heart and conscientious discharge of duty in every position in which he was placed. He filled numerous offices of trust and honor, bestowed on him by his fellow-citizens, unsolicited by him. At the time of his death he was chairman of the County Court. His uniform kindness to his neighbors endeared him to them in no small degree, as was shown by the unanimous vote given him for Senator at his precinct, at the late election. It is seldom that any one is more missed and more sincerely grieved for by his own family, than Col. Ivey. He was seen to the greatest advantage at home. Every thing that devoted nisterly affection and brotherly love could do, was done to soothe his last moments, and smoothe his path to the grave. His family mourn not as those without hope, for they believe he died a true christian, and has exchanged a life of trouble and sore vexation for a heavenly rest.

A FRIEND.

 Standard, please copy.

DR. WILLIE PERRY died at the residence of his brother, Dr A. S Perry, near Louisburg, on Friday, the 17th inst. Long afflicted with Asthma and more recently with Paralysis, he bore his confinement with a patience and fortitude, becoming the Christian character, and awaited the approach of death with a calm resignation. Distinguished and learned in his profession, he was for more than forty years at its head in Franklin, and it will be a long, long time before the County can present another man more useful or more beloved. Upright and just—kind and considerate—humane and charitable, he possessed the confidence and esteem and affectionate regard of his fellow-men in a degree that has fallen to the lot of but few; and his name, as familiar as a household word, to the people of Franklin, will long be remembered with blessings. The simple announcement of an obituary notice, cannot do justice to his memory, for when a man of his attainments and eminent worth and virtue closes a long and useful career, it presents a fit subject for the pen of the biographer, and it is to be hoped that some one competent to the task will prepare an appropriate sketch of his life. *

Pioneer Line of Steamers

FOR
Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, via Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal.

THE COMMODIOUS STEAMERS PIONEER and Commodore Adams, will leave Newberne for Norfolk on TUESDAY of each week at 6 o'clock A M, connecting with the different lines of steamers for the above-named points. On and after the first day of December next they will leave on Tuesday and Friday of each week, making semi-weekly trips. Shippers of Goods will receive every facility and accommodation for the transportation of the same, as arrangements have been made with the different companies to forward goods to this line at low rates and without delay. Each of these steamers are capable of carrying though the canal without difficulty, as they were built expressly for the trade. They are fitted up with STATE ROOMS and BERTHS capable of accommodating thirty-five passengers. Every attention will be paid to the comfort of passengers, who will not be subject to the inconvenience of transfer to other vessels, but will be taken through direct without change.
The tables of the steamers are liberally supplied with the best the market affords. Families traveling will find it to their interest to take this line, as they will thereby escape the danger and discomfort of a sea route and the fatigue of railroad travel.
On the 15th of December next, if the business of the line warrants it, the steamer Williams will be put on the route, and tri-weekly trips will be made.
For freight or passage apply to Whitford, Dill & Co., Newbern, N C.

GREAT BARGAINS

IN CLOTHS AND FANCY DRY GOODS.

THE SUBSCRIBER RESPECTFULLY ANnounces to his friends and patrons, and to the Members of the Legislature, and to strangers visiting the City, that he continues to carry on the

at his old stand, where he will be happy to see them and sell them great bargains in his line. He would also call the attention of those of the Military Department wishing to purchase clothing, uniforms or citizens' dress, to the fact that they will find great bargains. In style and taste they cannot be surpassed by any in this city or any other. He deems it unnecessary to say any thing of his own skill in the Tailoring business, but it will suffice to say that his experience has not been for a few years only, but for the last 15 years. He therefore solicits a liberal patronage. Prompt attention will be given to persons wishing to have cutting done. Orders from a distance will be thankfully received and promptly attended to. Call at store No. 15 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

MRS FENTRESS has opened a Boarding House next door, about 150 yards from the Capitol, where she will entertain members of the Legislature or transient Boarders.

T. R FENTRESS,

Nov. 16-85 1m. Merchant Tailor.

A CARD.

THE SUBSCRIBER WOULD RESPECTFULLY call attention of the Ladies and Gentlemen of the City, and the public generally, to a large and beautiful stock of goods comprising every thing that is needful to complete a wardrobe.

For cheapness there is none that can compete with the house of Messrs. Bowen & Randall, No. 15 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C. Call and examine his goods before you purchase elsewhere, and my word for it you will find cheap goods.

A new supply of goods has just been received and he will continue to receive them by every steamer that arrives.

The strictest attention will be paid by Mr. Bowen, the proprietor, and his clerks, to those who give him a call.

Make no mistake. Be certain to call at the store No. 15 Fayetteville Street, on the corner of the vacant square. T. R. FENTRESS,
